

build pupil independence

In your next mentor interaction you will have the opportunity to discuss effective guided practice. To prepare for this, complete the task outlined below.

Over to you!

Identify a lesson you will soon teach and plan to include guided practice. When doing so, consider the following points:

- What will pupils need to know prior to guided practice? This will inform what to include in your explanations and modelling.
- What key teaching points will the guided practice focus on? These will be the parts they are asked to contribute to.
- What methods or strategies will you utilise? E.g. thinking aloud, partially completed examples.
- How does guided practice build on from your explanation and modelling?
- How could you adapt this guided practice for pupils who require a greater level of support?

You can record your plan in any format that you wish. Once you have done this, submit your plan to your mentor using the assignment tool as this will be the focus of your next mentor interaction.
